

A rare combination of skills and leadership.

Technology Staffing BY genesis10®

Genesis10 delivers the top people in your industry.

When it comes to staffing a business or technology project, there's a lot more to finding the right person than just matching the bullet points on a resume.

A candidate's soft skills – their leadership qualities, communication skills, demeanor, personal integrity and old-fashioned common sense – can be just as important as their proven technical abilities and job experience.

The only way to evaluate a candidate's soft skills is to spend time with them. But surprisingly, most staffing companies don't meet candidates until just before sending them to you – some never intend to meet them in person at all.

Genesis10 does things differently.

Our recruiters proactively engage with the top performers in our talent pool. We interact with them on a personal level, and when an opportunity arises, we know before we contact them whether they have both the technical and soft skills needed to perform in a given role.

That's because we work with you to gain a deeper understanding of the role requirements, including technical skills, communication skills, cultural fit and other characteristics based on your needs. This knowledge helps us make truer matches, consistently and efficiently. Over time, you can streamline your interviewing and hiring processes knowing that the candidates you meet from Genesis10 will be thoroughly vetted, well-qualified technology professionals who align with your needs.

Before we send our candidates out, we give them a thorough briefing on the role, reporting structure, company culture and the impact of the project on corporate goals.

When you hire through Genesis10, your new people can hit the ground running, with little or no on-boarding from you.

Being proactive like this requires a greater investment on our part, but it's the best way to secure the most desirable people in the market for our clients.

We recruit nationally and hire locally.

Genesis10 has a proven national recruiting model and a reputation for finding subject matter experts in local markets who deliver results for our clients' business and technology projects.

Our network of available, capable and experienced consultants and contract-to-hire resources include proven performers in:

- Program/Project Management
- Portfolio Management
- Analyst Skills
- ERP Expertise
- Technical Architecture
- Software Engineering and Development
- Infrastructure/Network Engineering

But Genesis10 consultants aren't just technology staffers—they're technology professionals with proven business and industry experience, and they're ready to understand, anticipate and deliver what your company needs to succeed.

Think of Genesis10 as the premier player of technology staffing firms.

Since 1999, our focus has been on technology staffing, and we have developed a database of more than 2 million top performers nationwide, enabling us to provide exactly the right people for the required roles.

Genesis10 consultants are highly accomplished and referenced people. Many are career consultants with Genesis10.

Your business's technology is too important to trust to anyone but the best technology consultants available.

And that's what Genesis10 delivers. Every time.
