"Wow, time sure flew by. I have truly enjoyed working for and being part of the Genesis 10 team these past two years. I had never done contract work before and was a little apprehensive, so I'm glad my first experience was with Genesis10. I like the work I'm doing and hope to continue for as long as possible."

Whether it is finding the right client engagement or building the experience needed to meet their career goals, we've got our consultants covered.

OPINIONS MATTER.

We care about our consultant's feedback. We reach out regularly to make sure they are happy and fulfilled in their current engagement and have numerous routines in place (starting day one) to provide them every opportunity to voice their ideas regarding how we can add more value for the client or for our consultants.

CAREER ADVOCATES.

We are committed to helping our consultants achieve their career goals, both short- and long-term. That's why Genesis10 consultants tend to stay with us from project to project. They can stay focused on their current client until the very last day because they trust us to work diligently on their behalf to find new and challenging opportunities when the time is

WORK-LIFE BALANCE.

Genesis 10 places a high priority on work-life balance and strives to place our consultants in the areas where they live. We don't add extra pressures such as internal sales goals, mandatory offhour meetings, excessive travel, or other expectations that would impact their ability to effectively deliver for the client or what matters most, their life.

CONSULANT BENEFITS.

The health and well-being of our consultants is important to us. That's why we offer them the same comprehensive health benefits that our internal staff member receive including health insurance, dental insurance, voluntary vision, voluntary term life, 401K, and vacation / sick / holiday time (for salaried consultants).
